We are delighted to welcome you to NIMS 2026, taking place from June 8–10, 2026, in the dynamic and inspiring city of Chicago, USA. This international gathering brings together scientists, researchers, engineers, and industry professionals to explore the latest breakthroughs and emerging trends in material science.

As we stand at the forefront of technological advancement, material science continues to play a critical role in shaping the future—from energy and sustainability to healthcare, aerospace, electronics, and beyond. NIMS 2026 offers a premier platform for sharing cutting-edge research, discussing challenges and opportunities, and fostering interdisciplinary collaboration.

Over the course of three days, participants will engage in insightful keynote talks, technical sessions, interactive panels, and networking events designed to stimulate ideas and partnerships. Whether you are here to present your findings, discover new technologies, or connect with global experts, NIMS 2026 is the place to be.

We look forward to a productive and inspiring experience with you in Chicago!
